FORTY-ONE CONSTITUTE SECOND QUOTA FROM OHIO COUNTY

Boys Left Saturday Morning For Camp Zachary Taylor to Go In Training.

Saturday morning at 8:45 o'clock forty-one stalwart young men, constituting the second increment of the quota from Ohio county, left for Camp Zachary Taylor, there to go in training before entering actively in the world war.

The second bunch of men, as a rule, seemed to be in better spirits than the seventy-one who left two weeks previous.

The young men were assembled at exemption headquarters at 5:30 o'clock Friday afternoon for roll call, and went from there immediately to the Commercial Hotel, where the patriotic citizens of Simmons had ordered for them supper. From the hotel they went to the Star Theater, and through the courtesy of Messrs. Heavrin & Barrass, they were admitted without charge.

The good people of the town again opened their homes to the young men who are going out to fight our battles, and they were given lodging and breakfast.

With the 41 that left Saturday and the 71 that left two weeks ago, there are now 112 of Ohio county's quota of 157 at Camp Zachary Taylor.

The local exemption board are of the opinion that the remaining 45 will be called about the 19th inst.

YOUNG COUPLE PREVENTED FROM BEING MARRIED

"The course of true love never did run smooth," as Homer Keown, age nineteen, and Miss Myrl Bratcher, fifteen years of age, found Wednesday when they were intercepted in the city by Patrolman Silbereisen on word from the girl's father, a farmer, of Rockport, Ohio county, and held pending his arrival. The couple had already been refused a license in Evansville on Tuesday and had started home.

The young couple accompanied another couple from their home Monday and the marriage of the other couple in Rockport Tuesday proved to be such a delightful affair that they themselves decided they would try matrimonial bliss and proceeded to Evansville, where their troubles began.—Owensboro Messenger.

SIX MONTHS SENTENCE IS GIVEN TO NEGRO

One month in jail for each of the six dollars which he stole from the Livermore post-office, is the sentence which has been given Otis Gregory, who is at present in the county jail, and who has just been sentenced by Judge Walter Evans in Louisville. Gregory stole about six dollars in cash and stamps from the Livermore post-office in August. He has already served about one of the six months to which he was sentenced in the Daviess county jail.—Owensboro Messenger.

WORK OF CONGRESS PRAISED BY WILSON

Needs Met In Way That Assures Effectiveness Of American Arms, He Says.

Washington, Oct. 6.—The work of the congressional session adjourned today was praised today by President Wilson in a statement saying:

"The needs of the army and navy have been met in a way that assures the effectiveness of American arms, and the war-making branch of the Government has been abundantly equipped with the powers that were necessary to make the action of the nation effective."

"The Sixty-fifth Congress, now adjourning," the President added, "deserves the gratitude and appreciation of a people whose will and purpose I believe it has faithfully expressed. One cannot examine the record of its action without being impressed by its completeness, its courage and its full comprehension of a great task."

"I believe that it has also in equal degree and as far as possible in the face of war, safeguarded the rights of the people and kept in mind the considerations of social justice so often obscured in the hasty readjustments of such a crisis."

"It seems to me that the work of this remarkable session has not only been done thoroughly, but that it has also been done with the utmost dispatch possible in the circumstances or consistent with a full consideration of the exceedingly critical matters dealt with. Best of all, it has left no doubt as to the spirit and determination of the country, but has affirmed them as loyally and as emphatically as our fine soldiers will affirm the men the firing line."

Delivered Fine Address At Court

House Last Wednesday Afternoon.

Last Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock Dr. Fred Mutchler, Superintendent of the Extension Work in Kentucky, delivered a fine address at the court house on the subject of "Our Present War and Its Conditions."

A fair sized audience was in attendance and Dr. Mutchler had the undivided attention of all present while speaking.

Dr. Mutchler is a man well informed as to the conditions relative to the war, and says that it is the duty of every individual to back up the government in everything pertaining to this great struggle, as he says, "for freedom and liberty."

Dr. Mutchler assured his hearers that the report that has gained circulation to the effect that the government intended confiscating food of our people if they had more than they could use, was enormous, and that the United States would be glad to pay well those who have exerted themselves in the way of canning, preserving, etc., for everything they have to sell.

He also said that a few people realized that this was a struggle for freedom and liberty that was on a parallel with the fight our forefathers made in the Revolutionary War, and that it was well that we got into the fight now while we had other nations to help us, as Germany intended conquering France and England and then America next.

It is regretted that more of our citizenry did not hear this well-informed man on this topic that is of vital importance to every man, woman and child in the United States.

A FEW HOURS WITH BOYS AT CAMP ZACHARY TAYLOR

The hurricane that swept up from the coast is wearing itself out in Kentucky; a lively gale is blowing and the air is filled with dust, coming from fields once green but now worn naked by the tramp, tramp, tramp of forty thousand feet. But it's a curious kind of dust, because there isn't a scrap of paper, a piece of old rags or anything but dust. And you wonder why, if there is anything of the kind, that this is a pure dust. Let your eye take in, so far as it can, the hundreds of buildings, those already up and those in process of construction, and this same wind and dust storm is raging about them all, and still nothing but dust, no unpleasant odor of any kind. And why? Because you are at Camp Zachary Taylor, the cleanest five thousand acres in the world; soon to be increased by many more acres, it is said.

For here, mothers, wives, sisters and sweethearts of the boys now preparing to give the final knockout punch to Bill the Brute, cleanliness is the first and most important of all rules next to loyalty and obedience. Cleanliness of body, cleanliness of habits, cleanliness of barracks, hospital—cleanliness everywhere and in all things. Sickness? Don't worry about them on that account, for after the few hours' sickness that follows the vaccination against those dread diseases like typhoid fever—diseases that in the past have wiped out many thousands more men than bullets and shrapnel, they're the heartiest, healthiest chaps in all the world.

Go up and look 'em over—every mother's son from Todd. You'll hardly know some of the boys when they get back—we know this, for we hardly knew them when we saw them just a few days ago. Almost without exception, there's a snap and vigor about them that they didn't have when they left us, and some of them like the life so well it will be hard to get them home again. For there's the regular army, you know, even if this scrap should be over soon instead of lasting two or three years, as your humble servant sees it.

And they don't lack for amusements either. You will see ball games going on—football and base ball, and in one gay spot were a group of mountain boys in a mountain breakdown, banjo and all, all—except the girls. But some of the boys generously took the part of the girls, and while their efforts at substitution cannot be commended for grace and elegance they appeared, nevertheless, absolutely sincere and earnest. The Y. M. C. A.—there is a building to every unit—throws its doors wide open with current magazines, daily and weekly newspapers, writing desks, pianos, victrolas and picture shows, and endeavors in every way to put itself at the service of the Sammies, and if they want to see the sights of Louisville—a different Louisville in many respects to what it has been in years ago, they may do so at times. There were thousands upon thousands of them in Louisville Saturday, and you could see them everywhere—except in saloons. The Government is strictly enforcing this law about selling to soldiers, and the saloon men seem anxious to co-operate. A man in uniform can't buy a coco-cola in a Louisville saloon. Signs appear on front doors of some places telling the soldiers this. There may be violations now and then, as there are of all other rules and regulations, in military and civil life. But when one sees thousands of soldiers in a town that has 800 saloons, and doesn't see a drunken man or a drinking man in uniform, he knows there are laws that are enforceable and saloon men that obey the law. Ascribe it to whatever motive you care—but they are obeying it in Louisville.

We have said that chance of sickness has practically been banished from Camp Zachary Taylor, and it has. But in a city of 25,000 souls—for that is what Camp Zachary Taylor really is—somebody will get sick occasionally. And what if your boy is stricken by illness or accident?

He is taken to the real wonder of the Camp—a hospital that must be seen to be appreciated. Enter it, and you at once make up your mind that the world is one vast building, with interminable passageways through it. Here he will receive the best medical and surgical attention that money can buy anywhere else, at the hands of skilled surgeons and trained nurses.

But here is the biggest item of all. Napoleon said "an army travels on its belly," meaning, of course, the better fed the army, the more effective its fighting. If that is true, good night, Kaiser Bill! We sat down at dinner with Lieut. Everett Penick, and never was a meal more enjoyable; after that, we wanted to see two or three of the boys who were not at the barracks, and in the cooking camp we found them. Henry Mobley and Edgar Hadden, and although mess was over, we accepted an invitation "to just sample" their handiwork. We did so, and dear people, don't worry about your boy's "eats"—he's faring better than the folks back home. The officers pay for their own food and naturally care for themselves, while Uncle Sam himself sees that your boy, if a private, doesn't lack for it. If you are the head of a family of four, and your grocery bill isn't $50 to $60 a month—the private in the ranks is faring better than your family. For Uncle Sam sees to it that there is not only food, but food in abundance; wholesome, palatable, nourishing food. And there isn't a cleaner eating place in the world than the mess rooms, officers' or privates' and we're not excepting the big hotels, either.

Another thing—the boys are worked just enough to keep them in fine condition. Many of them have done harder work before, and those who have not before this experienced hard manual labor are holding up just as well as their more rugged comrades. And here's another big item that counts—when taps are sounded the boys turn in on easy, comfortable cots, in rooms well ventilated, and awake to their morning's work refreshed by their slumber.

And now a final word as to the spirit that permeates the men of Camp Zachary Taylor, in camp, on the street, everywhere. It's shown by the manly bearing and unfailing courtesy of the men in khaki. For instance, if you, just a plain, ordinary civilian in these days when the war drum throbs, should be bumped into by an officer of rank in a crowded hotel lobby, when it was half your own fault, too, and this officer should touch his cap and say, "I beg your pardon, sir," you would be surprised, wouldn't you? But that is just an example of the gentlemanly instincts a man seems to acquire at Camp Zachary Taylor. It is shown in nearly every act of the men under colors, and with it all there appears no spirit of envy or malice, nor any swaggering bradadocio that so marks the manner of the fighting men under the colors of a murder-mad Kaiser. Is the spirit of old Zachary Taylor, whose grave is not far from this city of preparedness, really walking through the ranks of the Camp that bears his honored name?

But how is the visitor himself impressed? Visit the camp and you will realize as never before that mighty things are being done in the world; that each and every one of these men in khaki, high or low in rank, is cheerfully preparing to do his duty through the strenuous days that are to come; that it's for all of us back home to do and to sacrifice to the limit that these men may be fit and trim both here and on the battle fields of France, if the fortunes of war shall call them there, to deliver the decisive blow in the world's greatest war, wherein shall be determined for all time whether a military autocracy shall rule by religious claim of right divine, or whether freedom's banner shall wave over all the peoples of the earth, signifying that "no man is good enough to govern another man without that other man's consent."—Todd County Times.

RAY CHAPMAN WILL BE IN OWENSBORO THIS WEEK

J. R. Johnson received a letter from his nephew, Ray Chapman, member of the Cleveland baseball team, and star shortstop of the American league, advising him that he would arrive in Owensboro the latter part of next week. He will be accompanied by Tris Speaker, also a member of the Cleveland team, and one of the country's greatest players. They will make the trip to Owensboro in Speaker's automobile and will spend a few weeks hunting. Chapman is hitting over .300 this year and is leading the American league in stolen bases and sacrifice hits.—Owensboro Messenger.

EARLY PEACE IS HELD AS A MENACE

President Wilson Tells Callers

Ideals of Democracy Would Be Threatened.

Washington, Oct. 8.—Americans who are discussing early peace with Germany forget that it would mean crushing the democratic ideals for which the United States has always stood, said President Wilson today to the organizers of a patriotic educational movement, who called at the White House. He said the only way to end the war is by complete victory of the nations representing those ideals over Germany's doctrine of force.

Many people, said the President, are inclined to let their thoughts on the causes and principles underlying the war wander into byways and forget that the main reason the United States is at war is to defeat a government which threatens even the existence of democracy.

The President endorsed the plan of the new organization which includes a number of religious, business, labor and fraternal groups, for unifying the spirit of America. Little real misunderstandings of the war exists in the United States, he said, but there is evident considerable cloudy thinking which a patriotic educational movement can set aright.

3,300 MILES IN AUTOS.

Mr. J. W. Henry and family were in Beaver Dam recently visiting old friends, and send their best regards to all who they missed seeing. They also attended the Ohio County Fair Saturday, the last day.

Mr. Henry and family drove through in a Saxon 6 and a Ford from their home at Gazelle, Cal., covering 3,300 miles, coming over northern route. They returned in their cars over the southern route.

Owensboro Messenger of Tuesday says:

All the Owensboro and Daviess county physicians, under fifty-five years of age, are in receipt of the following communication from Major A. T. McCormack, president of the Kentucky Examination Board of Medical Reserve Officers:

Bowling Green, Ky., Oct. 6.
1.—A board has been constituted at Bowling Green by the war department for the examination of physicians who desire to apply for commissions in the Medical Reserve Corps of the army. If you desire to apply, it will examine you on any day convenient to you. Bring two letters with you, certifying to your moral character, good habits and standing in the profession.

2.—This board will be at the Seelbach Hotel, in Louisville, during the meeting of the Kentucky State Medical association, which has been postponed until November 6, 7, 8 and 9. There will be special rates on the railroads for this meeting, and a splendid program has been arranged, showing by picture demonstrations, amongst other important things, how the medical department of the army does its work.

3.—There are openings for at least 300 more Kentucky doctors in the army and they are needed badly right now. The beginning salary is $2,000 a year, and expenses should not exceed $35 a month.

4.—If you intend to go at all, it is important to remember that those commissioned first have precedence. You can be examined in Bowling Green any day.

By order of the surgeon general.

RECIPES BY MISS GOLDNAMER FOR HERALD READERS

Miss Goldnamer, State Food Demonstrator, has been giving a few days of her time to our county. Saturday afternoon she entertained the Woman's Club with an interesting talk, showing the ladies what their duty was, and how they could be able to help in this great world war. She insists that every woman shall see that there is no waste in her home. She insists that we heed every call made by Mr. Hoover to the women of the U. S., by so doing we each may do our "bit." She also gave the ladies some tested recipes, which they wish to share with The Herald readers.

Pear and Pineapple Marmalade.
Pare, quarter and core Kiefer pears; put through meat grinder. To each three pints of pear pulp add one pint of grated pineapple and three pounds of granulated sugar. Cook slowly until pulp and syrup do not separate.

Mustard Pickle Dressing.

1 pint sliced cucumbers,
1 pint onion
1 cup beans,
3 green sweet peppers,
3 red sweet peppers,
1 pit cauliflower,
1 quart vinegar,
4 tablespoonful flour,
1 cup sugar,
3 tablespoonful mustard,
½ tablespoonful tumeric,
1 tablespoonful celery seed.

Cut all vegetables before measuring. Put all vegetables in brine overnight, then freshen for two hours in clear water. Let these vegetables stand in liquor of one-half vinegar and one-half water for fifteen minutes, then seal in same liquor. Drain vegetables, cook dressing, pour over vegetables, mix well and can hot.

MRS. GRAVES BURIED FRIDAY.

The remains of Mrs. Maud Graves, who died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. P. J. Holderman, at Santa Fe, New Mexico, were buried in Oakwood cemetery here Friday. The burial was to have been Thursday morning, but missing connection with a train enroute delayed the funeral party one day.

We are not worrying half so much about the rainbows around the sun and the cres on the moon as we are about the late "poastin'" ears that Jack Frost is apt to get.

HEREFORD HERO OF COL. TAYLOR GREATEST EVER

Writer in Cattle Journal Tells Of Visit to Splendid Farm
In Woodford.

Under the caption "Hereford Farms" the American Hereford Journal contained the following interesting account of the visit of a correspondent to the magnificent Woodford county estate of Col. E. H. Taylor, Jr., of Frankfort:

"The greatest herd of Herefords ever assembled on either continent is to be seen on Hereford Farms, Frankfort, Ky., the property of Col. E. H. Taylor, Jr., who in recent years has done more than any other one man to popularize and encourage the breeding of high-class Herefords on both sides of the Atlantic. To visit this unique establishment in Woodford county, Ky., where 3,000 acres have been turned over to the production of high-class breeding cattle and market-topping beef and mutton, is a pleasure and a privilege never to be forgotten.

"In company with the enthusiastic owner, Col. E. H. Taylor, Jr., and his enterprising manager, J. C. Kinzer, it was the writer's good fortune to inspect the 400 odd head of breeding Herefords on the different farms. Improvement and expansion meet you and impress you wherever you cast your eye. Nature has been prodigal on these beautiful farms, but even nature has been coaxed and encouraged to the limit, till it is now one grand panorama at which one never tires in admiration and wonder.

"Among the latest acquisitions is a new cattle barn 208 feet long by 62 feet wide, with two wings 64 by 42 feet, containing 48 large box stalls with room enough for 200 head of cattle and 700 tons of hay and straw overhead. In keeping with everything Col Taylor has done, it is a model of convenience, ventilation and sanitation, substantial rather than ornamental, the comfort of the animals having been given first importance, and rightly so. * * * But we left Chicago with a double purpose in mind, not only to see Hereford Farms at their best, but wanted to see the great Woodford again, the bull that is making history not only for Kentucky, but for the Hereford breed at large. Happily we found him as we had hoped to find him, in his everyday habit, having made an extra heavy season with close to 80 cows settled to his service and looking hale and hearty, surrounded by a capital lot of his sons, and best of all his grandsons are beginning to appear on the scene and coming in such true form that Woodford's future is no longer a question, except as to how great his reputation will be through generations yet unborn.

"Imported Western Prince has been used to good advantage. He has a number of strong, rugged calves in the pens that will be developed and given an opportunity to introduce a few outcrosses on the English winners that are at times quite desirable in our breeding operations. To assist them in their work Premier Donald by Beau Perfection 1st, dam Lady Donald 37th by Sir Donald 12th, was secured. He was bred by Douthitt & Jones and is one of these easy-keeping, early-maturing, thick-fleshers that is eminently fitted for certain cows in every herd.

"A more recent purchase was Prime Brummel by Prime Lad 9th, dam Bright Luck by Beau Brummel.

A WOMAN'S BACK

The Advice Of This Hartford Woman Is Of Certain Value.

Many a woman's back has many aches and pains.

Often it's the kidneys' fault. That's why Doan's Kidney Pills are so effective.

Many Hartford women know this. Read what one has to say about it:

Miss Emma E. Park, Washington St., Hartford, says: "From time to time I suffered with a dull backache. At these times I have had dizzy spells and black spots appear before my eyes. My kidneys have been disordered also, and I have been caused a great deal of annoyance on this account. I have gotten up in the morning feeling tired and worn-out. I have found that Doan's Kidney Pills did me a lot of good whenever I suffered in that way and I consider them an excellent kidney medicine."

herd by W. S. Van Natta & Son. When this great Beau Brummel-type bull is finished he will tread the tankard with something like 2,600 pounds, and the quality, character and coat that a great Hereford bull should have will not be lacking. Fairfax Knight is a two-year-old by Mr. Cook's champion bull, Fairfax 16th, from a Beaumont dam, a dark colored bull of good style and much substance. The sons of Woodford from two years old to six months calves are coming strong and true. But we are inclined to believe Woodford 9th is the greatest Roman of them all. He is a short junior yearling, but he is a wonder. Among the 50 young bulls on the farm, representing different sires, there is so much of it that is really high-class herding and showyard material that one begins to ponder and wonder from where did they all come. There is always a reason. At Hereford Farms there are two reasons. First the bulls, second the greatest herd of cows that ever graced a Hereford breeder's pasture. Quality and quantity without end is the easiest way to express it.

"Only unlimited means and gray matter could congregate and match up such magnificent types of meaty, milky matrons and maintain the high standard of excellence that permeates Col. Taylor's herd in such numbers. Then the good two-year-old and yearling heifers are coming on to increase the herd and only the best by test will be maintained. The females intended for exhibition under the master hand of Geo. Queerie are all on their feet and on their feed in beautiful bloom for July. The imported cow, Clive Iris 3d and Matron Donald will sustain the reputation of Hereford Farms in the cow classes. Juliet, last year's grand champion, and Bonnie Lass are raising calves out in the pasture, the imported cow's calf being weaned to give her a chance to make a ton cow. Matron Donald is only a few pounds behind her. The Woodford and Gay Lad heifers seen last season will come again, except Miss Woodford, the Atlanta champion. As a two-year-old she is nursing a fine heifer calf and doing it well. With material a-plenty in heifer calves to pick from, Manager J. C. Kinzer should have no difficulty in turning out three great herds from Hereford Farms for the 1917 campaign."

REOPENING DRAFT CASES UP TO ADJUTANT GENERAL

Frankfort, Ky.—Adj. Gen. James Tandy Ellis, and not the Governor, is authorized to request the reopening of a case of a drafted soldier whose appeal has been finally determined by exemption boards.

A telegram was received last week by Gov. Stanley from the War Department stating that the request for the re-opening of such cases should be made by the Governor. An inquiry was made to determine the correctness of this telegram and Adj. Gen. Ellis received notice from the War Department that it is the duty of the Adjutant General and not the Governor to review such cases. The notice also stated that a reward of $50 would be paid for the delivery of a deserter to an army camp or post. A person who fails to report to his local board for military service at the time specified in his order to report, is a deserter.

Adj. Gen. Ellis has notified the War Department that 13,080 of Kentucky's quota of 14,236 men have been certified to the department.

PLANS TO ELIMINATE CONSUMPTIVES FROM ARMY

Frankfort, Ky.—Dr. W. L. Heizer, secretary of the State Tuberculosis Commission, has perfected a plan for the examination of men registered for draft service in the army, and his plan has been approved by Surgeon Gen. Gorgas. The history of every man drafted who has tuberculosis in his family, and his family history as regards the matter of tuberculosis, will be forwarded to Dr. Heizer by the family physician. If tuberculosis shows in the family, then an expert will be furnished by Dr. Heizer to examine the man provided he has not been sent to the cantonment, and, if already accepted for service, then he will be examined by the surgeons in the army. In this way, Dr. Heizer hopes to reach every suspected case in the army, and to save the Government thousands of dollars.

ANDERSON COUNTY VOTES OUT WHISKY

Lawrenceburg, Ky.—Anderson county, home of several of Kentucky's most famous brands of bourbon, went "dry" by a majority of 225. The county has been one of John Barleycorn's chief strongholds and the "dry" are celebrating what they regard as one of the most decisive victories the Kentucky temperance forces have won in many a day. Three years ago the county voted "wet" by a majority of forty-six. Lawrenceburg's eight saloons will close December 1.

INSANE MAN CHOKES MOTHER TO DEATH

Mrs. Rebecca Works, Wife of Lewis
County Minister, Attacked
While Asleep.

Maysville, Ky.—Entering his mother's bedroom, at an early hour Saturday, James Works, 27, choked his mother, Mrs. Rebecca Works, 60, to death, the terrible deed being enacted at the Works' home at Spence, Lewis county. Her body was not found until 7 o'clock Saturday morning, when Rev. James Works, her husband, who slept in an adjoining room, called his wife for breakfast. Receiving no response, after repeated attempts, Rev. Works forced open the door leading to his wife's room and was horrified to find his wife cold in death. Finger prints on her throat indicated how she had met her death. When the Rev. Mr. Works located his son, who a year ago was released from the asylum at Lexington, and questioned him about the affair, he says his son admitted he entered his mother's room and choked her to death. He had been acting strangely for some time. Rev. Works is at a loss to understand how he was not awakened by the trouble.

James Works, the self-confessed murderer of his mother, is being closely guarded by neighbors of the Works family.

Says Phosphates Make Beautiful Women and Strong, Healthy, Vigorous, Robust Men.

Physicians all over the world are prescribing phosphates to build up run down emic conditions and those who have treated their patients with Argo-Phosphate are changing this. Argo-Phosphate is a tonic for women with toneless tissues, flabby flesh, into the most beautiful rosy cheeked plump round formed woman imaginable.

Atlanta, Ga.—Dr. Jacobson said in a recent interview that 90 per cent. of anemia comes from nervous breakdown which can only be corrected by supplying the necessary phosphates to the nervous system that is lacking in the food you eat, and this can be quickly supplied by taking one or two 5-grain Argo-Phosphate tablets after each meal, and at bed time. It will in many cases make a pale scrawny face the picture of health in a few days. I have seen women that I expected would have to be kept under treatment for months restored to perfect health in one or two weeks time.

SPECIAL NOTICE—The Argo-Phosphate recommended by Dr. F. H. Jacobson, contains phosphates such as are prescribed by leading physicians throughout the world, and it will be found the most effective form for treating patients with nervous dyspepsia, stomach troubles, brain lag and nervous prostration. It will renew youthful vim and vigor, and build up the whole body. If your druggist will not supply you with Argo-Phosphate, send $1.00 for two weeks treatment to Argo Laboratories, 10 Forsyth St., Atlanta, Ga.—Advertisement.

PLAN NEGRO UNIT AT EACH OF CAMPS

Baker Proposes to Scatter Draftees
Through all National Army Cantonments.

Washington.—With plenty of room available at the national army cantonments, due to the large number of men to be withdrawn to fill up the National Guard and other branches, the War Department has again modified its plans for training negro troops of the national army forces. It is now the purpose, Secretary Baker said, to train a complete unit of negroes at each of the sixteen cantonments, instead of training them only at cantonments to which a considerable number report. The size of the unit will depend upon the number of negro draftees from the divisional area which supplies each cantonment, but where there is a large surplus, men will be sent to posts with smaller numbers for consolidation with the training units there.

The first of the drafted negroes will be mobilized under the call of October 2. The number to be taken from each division will not be uniform and the allotment has not been announced.

The PERUNA Family

has three members you should know if you desire to enjoy life.

1. The popular liquid form of Peruna—the reliable tonic of the American household, with a long history of success in treating all catarrhal difficulties.
2. The tablet form, which is made after the same formula and is more convenient for many.
3. Manalin, the ideal laxative, by the regular use of which constipation may be overcome and natural action restored. Manalin has no habit forming drug, but is an aid to nature.

Your druggist has all three. So many thousands have received benefit from the use of one or both these remedies that they are a recognized part of the equipment of every careful household.

Grow More Wheat

Bread, Milk and Meat Are Our Chief Foods.

Wheat is the best bread material for us and our allies.

The Government insures approximately $2.00 per bushel for the 1918 wheat crop.

By all means sow a larger acreage than last year.

Directions for Growing Wheat: Seed and Varieties.

The varieties of wheat generally grown in Kentucky are the best for this State. These are Fultz, a smooth white chaff variety; Currell's Prolific, having a smooth head with red chaff; Fulcaster, a bearded variety, and Mediterranean or Four-rowed Fultz.

If necessary to buy seed one of these varieties should be chosen, and if possible the seed should be bought in the immediate locality. Home grown seed is just as good as Northern seed if reasonably clean and pure. No farmer can afford to buy enough high priced seed from a distance to plant his entire crop, and pay freight charges in addition, just to have absolutely pure seed. A moderate admixture of other varieties will not decrease the yield. The important thing is to have seed free from rye, cheat and especially cockle and onions.

Seed wheat should be cleaned in order to remove light, shrunken grains, dirt and other impurities. There is no advantage in screening out small grains if they are plump.

Smut Treatment.

Stinking smut sometimes causes considerable loss in Kentucky. It can be controlled so cheaply and easily that there is little excuse for having smutty wheat. The formaldehyde treatment is the easiest to give and is perfectly effective. This is applied as follows: Spread the wheat out on a floor or clean canvas and sprinkle until thoroughly wet with a solution made by adding one pound of formaldehyde to a barrel (50 gallons) of water. Then shovel into a heap and cover with canvas or sacks for a few hours. Spread and dry sufficiently to sow.

Fertilizing Wheat.

No fertilizers should be used in the Central Blue Grass section this fall. In the fertilizer tests conducted by the Experiment Station, not a single bushel of increase has ever been obtained on wheat, in the Central Blue Grass section, by the use of any kind of commercial fertilizer at sowing time.

Everywhere outside of the Blue Grass section a fertilizer which supplies phosphorus only should be used. No farmer can afford to use commercial nitrogen and potash at present prices, even if they give some increase which is entirely unlikely. Acid phosphate, steamed bone meal, or basic slag supply phosphorus. Two hundred pounds per acre of one of these should be used on every acre of wheat sown in the State this fall outside of the Blue Grass region.

The experiments of the Station on its soil field in various areas of the State have shown remarkable increases from the use of lime, on all soils where phosphorus is needed. Ground limestone used in connection with phosphorus is certain to be profitable provided it can be obtained at a reasonable price.

RUNNING TO COVER.

So long as a man is right, is honest in his intentions and fights openly and fearlessly he has nothing to hide. When he is, to use a familiar bit of vernacular of the streets, "faking" and is being exposed he runs to cover.

It is said of the ostrich that when pursued he hides his head in the sand and thinks that he is safe.

The men who a short while ago were so open in their denunciation of the selected draft law are now heard only on rare occasions, and then their voices are subdued and hushed.

They are seeking cover before it is too late.

It will be cheerfully admitted that many of the administration opponents were conscientious in their views. They had no ulterior motives in their attacks on the President and his war policies. They were for peace, they felt that the United States had best remain out of war, they thought that the time for such a conflict was inopportune. For these reasons they openly opposed the action of the President in declaring war. It is well to add that most of these people, finding that they had been mistaken, changed their views or have at least subsided.

But the other pacifists, who were actuated by reasons best known to themselves, and men identified with the German propaganda, have found that public sentiment has become so fixed that the best thing for them to do is to seek safety in retreat.

This is the best possible sign that the American people are beginning to be thoroughly aroused to the seriousness of the nation's struggle.

There is always a spirit of forgiveness for the man or the woman who makes mistakes and is willing to admit the error, and to such people the right hand of fellowship is extended. They are gladly welcomed back into the fold, but the individual who refuses to admit his mistake, yet fears to face the public and runs to cover, is the recipient of American contempt.

It is an old sign that when men run to cover it is to save themselves from a fatal fire. The fact that the American field is being cleared, that the sentiment of the American people is becoming solidified, is very encouraging.

It means much. It means that we are at least almost united in our purpose to make the best of war and to win, regardless of cost or the vicissitudes confronting us.—Memphis Commercial Appeal.

U. S. WILL SOON LEAD WORLD WITH DESTROYERS

Washington, D. C.—Such remarkable progress has been made in building an immense American flotilla of destroyers to cope with the submarine campaign that the navy department is now assured that the United States will lead the world with destroyers within 18 months. It is now certain that the destroyers they are now building will be ready for duty early next year, saving approximately 10 months in the construction.

FREE ENERGY INVENTION MAY WIN THE WAR

Mysterious Machine to Be Given Demonstration Before Board Of Experts.

Washington.—The House bill providing for tests of a mysterious machine for utilizing free energy devised by Garabed T. K. Giragossian, an Armenian inventor from Boston, went to the Senate and Congressmen enthusiastic over the war possibilities of the machine, planned a drive for immediate action.

Giragossian so impressed five members of the House Patents Committee at a secret demonstration that they recommended passage of the bill to provide for a demonstration before a board of five scientists and the Secretary of the Interior, as a preliminary to the government buying the rights to use the device.

Former Speaker Cannon, who, in the face of ridicule, years ago forced through the resolution for testing Prof. Longley's flying machine, supported the resolution.

Here are some of the things the inventor says his invention will do:

Drive a battleship any distance without stop for fuel.

Propel an aeroplane around the world.

Give an aeroplane strength to carry thousands of pounds of munitions.

Enable an aeroplane to wear armor heavy enough to turn any anti-aircraft gun's missiles.

Send torpedoes at greater speed.

Practically double the speed of steam engines.

Other than to state that this system of utilizing free energy is as revolutionary as Franklin's discovery of electricity, Giragossian has not publicly described his theory. So radical are his assertions that they would be dismissed with a shrug and a smile had he not in secret demonstrations, backed up his statements.

The only light thrown on the subject comes from a deleted report of the Patent Committee's hearings. It appears that Giragossian demonstrated a machine of ten-horse power. On its performances he based predictions that it will do away with boilers, furnaces, motors, coal, steam, oil—in short everything that has heretofore been connected with the idea of power. "Garabed" is not a perpetual-motion machine, he said.

LA FOLLETTE'S DEPORTATION URGED BY CLUBS OF OHIO

Columbus, Ohio.—Deportation of United States Senator Robert M. La Follette and his supporters through the Allies lines to Berlin because of their "treasonable utterances," was urged in a resolution received by Gov. Cox from the Executives' Club of Toledo, representing twenty-four clubs and associations in that city. Copies of the resolutions were sent to President Wilson and to Ohio Senators and Congressmen with the request that they be entered in the Congressional Record.

WHAT CATARRH IS

It has been said that every third person has catarrh in some form.

Science has shown that nasal catarrh often indicates a general weakness of the body; and local treatments in the form of snuffs and vapors do little, if any good.

To correct catarrh you should treat its cause by enriching your blood with the oil-food in Scott's Emulsion which is a medicinal food and a building-tonic, free from alcohol or any harmful drugs. Try it. Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. J.

Two Strong Columbus Features

AT the rear end of the Columbus wagon box you will find two improvements that will mean much to you in the coming years while you use the wagon.

There is the International folding end-gate (patent applied for). Split end-gates are now done away with. You will see that it is easy to remove or replace; that it will stay in position; that it is very strong, made firm by four cross sills to prevent splitting, and by a spring steel bar.

Then there is the center link box rod. This rod couples in the center and has a threaded handle nut on each side of the box. When uncoupled the rod always remains fast to the box. The new link end rod means no more lost or bent rods, and no more stripped threads. You can tighten the rod from either side. Come in and see the handiest box-end arrangement you ever saw.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOL.

There is no institution in our governmental fabric that touches and affects the hearts and homes of the people more egually or acutely than does the public school. It is the pendulum of society, the fountain of American ideals and the training camp for true citizenship.
A zealous attachment to the principles of our public school system is the most promising feature of our economical, social and civic life. It is with pride we observe the increasing interest in school work, the devotion of faithful teachers and superintendents and the satisfactory results
among those who are being taught, trained and prepared for the highest type of citizenship.

In our own county, under the guidance and supervision of the present efficient Superintendent, this interest has been deepened, widened, heightened and extended in all sections and among all classes. Considering Prof. Shults' ability, his devotion to the schools, his knowledge of the needs, and his four years experience, would it not be the part of wisdom to retain him in office for another term? Think it over, fathers, mothers, teachers and citizens generally, and when election day arrives, each vote as your judgment dictates.

The Hartford Republican in its last week's issue, misquotes us as to the language used in our issue of Sept. 26th, in its effort to "show us up." We suppose. But it made a mess of it. The Republican credits us with this language: "The President had no more to do with breaking off diplomatic relations with Germany than this newspaper." Here is what we really said: "Mr. Wilson had about as much to do with the United States severing diplomatic relations with Germany and ultimately declaring war with her as the editor of The Herald." Reads a little bit different, doesn't it? The Republican then quotes Mr. Gerard's book in which he said: "The President, Saturday, Feb.
3, announced to Congress the breaking of diplomatic relations with Germany." Conceding this to be correct, Mr. Gerard does not say that the President declared war, and that was the point we were making, as the Republican in its issue of Sept.
21, quoted a young man who seemed to hold Mr. Wilson responsible for

PATRIOTS VS POLITICASTERS.

Do we realize the seriousness of this the greatest war in the history of world? Have we considered the far-reaching result of victory or defeat?
Are any of our readers nursing the thought that America is giving up millions of men and billions of dollars simply out of friendship for any one or all the allies?

If the very vitals of our free government were not seriously threatened there might be some excuse for the discouraging utterances and sarcastic snarls of petty politicians. But we all know that the only hope for American institutions—for that blessed liberty bought by the blood of our forefathers—lies in the defeat of the kaiser; that if this is not accomplished with our assistance to the allies we will be at the mercy of a desperate conquering foe with all his deceiving, unscrupulous, barbarous, murderous and other unthinkable methods adopted with a view of carrying out his purpose to become the lord and king of all nations of the earth.

Compare the words of former President Roosevelt with the mouthings of those who, in order to create prejudice against some particular party or official, would belittle or sneer at the efforts to organize the army and arouse the spirit of Americanism. Mr. Roosevelt, who has furnished two sons to the country, said a few days ago: "America must make good the words of President Wilson, 'Make the world safe for democracy.'" Very recently, at the general conference of his church, former President Taft, who has also a son in the army, drafted and introduced a resolution which was overwhelmingly adopted approving President Wilson's actions and declaring that "The war must be carried to a successful issue." The resolution set forth that:

"It is the opinion of this Unitarian conference that the war must be carried on to a successful issue to stamp out militarism in this world and that this Unitarian body approves the measures of President Wilson and Congress."

Woodrow Wilson, the brave and gallant, yet peace-loving and patient
President, plead, prayed and hoped that the war might be averted and peace and neutrality maintained, but in vain. In closing his solemn address to Congress when convened in extraordinary session said:

"It is a disressing and oppressive duty, gentlemen of the Congress, which I have performed in thus addressing you. There are, it may be, many months of fiery trial and sacrifice ahead of us. It is a fearful thing to lead this great peaceful people into war, into the most terrible and disastrous of all wars, civilization itself seeming to be in the balance. But the right is more precious than peace, and we shall fight for the things which we have always carried nearest our hearts—for democracy, for the right of those who submit to authority to have a voice in their own governments, for the rights and liberties of small nations, for a universal dominion of right by such a concert of free peoples as shall bring peace and safety to all nations and make the world itself at last free. To such a task we can dedicate our lives and our fortunes, everything that we are and everything that we have, with the pride of those who know that the day has come when America is privileged to spend her blood and her might for the principles that gave her birth and happiness and the peace which she has treasured. God helping her, she can do no other."

The resolution declaring that a state of war exists was adopted by the House of Representatives by an overwhelming majority—373 to 50. Notwithstanding this and the fact that Taft, Roosevelt, Henry Ford, Elihu Root, Chas. E. Hughes and other prominent Republicans are loyally supporting and approving the actions of the President and Congress, once in awhile a peanut politician with an air of disloyalty emits a critical whine as to responsibility for the war or the manner of organizing the army forces.

Having done all in his power to prevent the war which was forced upon us, the President is now diligently and faithfully exerting his energies to the utmost to bring it to a successful and speedy close. He is pressing calmly forward, holding an even keel, ignoring the thrusts of the I. W. W.'s, the taunts of the White House pickets and the slimy slurs of the puny politicasters.

him having to answer the call of his country via the Selective Draft, and published it to further the interests of the Republican party in the local campaign. No, we don't care one whit, Mr. Thomas, for you quoting us on anything we say, but "for the love 'o Mike," man, get it right.

"Then and now" is the catchy headline of Supt. Shults' comparative statement of the condition of the school fund Jan. 1, 1914, and Jan. 1, 1917. But as the latter date is nearly a year old, why does not the Professor give a statement of the condition
now. He should have headed his card "Then and then."— [Hartford Republican.]

This looks to us like a "drawing man grasping at a straw." The Republican knows too well the record Supt. Shults has made during the past four years, and that what he has done in the way of saving money for the taxpayers, the building of new school houses, etc., should, if for no other reason, be an incentive for the people of Ohio county to return him to the office for another four years. And we believe the will.

Those who missed the speech of Dr. Fred Mutchler at the court house last Wednesday, certainly missed a treat. Dr. Mutchler brought more forcibly to the minds of his audience
the facts as to why we are in this war and what we are fighting for than any man who has spoken here since we became embroiled in the world conflict. He says we are fighting for liberty just the same as our forefathers did in the Revolutionary war, and that it will take men, money and food to win it—and we must win! He, therefore, calls on everyone to save food, buy liberty bonds and thus help sustain and equip our boys who will go to the front for us.

stitutional guarantees in that re-

triotism of the country."

Introducing Jack Frost!

WE APOLOGIZE.

A subscriber friend of our in Nashville calls our attention to the fact that last week we had an editorial squib which spoke of LaFollette, of pacifist fame, as being from Minnesota, and says that we did the people of that Commonwealth a gross injustice.

In "the thousand and one things"
that an editor of a weekly newspaper has to do, we inadvertently said,
"Senator LaFollette, of Minnesota," when, of course, it should have been Wisconsin. Therefore, we apologize to the good people of Minnesota for linking the name of LaFollette with their State, and credit him to the Commonwealth in which there are towns that the manufacture of amber colored liquid "make famous."

Here is the squib that we printed last week, and the letter of our friend:

"It looks now as if Senator LaFollette, of Minnesota, is determined to talk himself out of a job."

"The brief editorial in your issue of the 3d does the State of Minnesota
a gross injustice. Senator LaFollette does not represent the good

TOURISTS POUR INTO
CAMP AT HATTIESBURG

Camp Shelby, Hattiesburg, Miss.—
Many inquiries come to soldiers regarding the best automobile highway route from Indiana and Kentucky to Camp Shelby. Some facts in connection with this matter might be of general interest.

Hattiesburg is on the Jackson Highway, extending from Chicago, via Louisville, to New Orleans. Reports along the route state that for the most part the route is in good shape. Many sections are in very excellent condition; at other points improvements are in progress.

The route extends from Chicago to Lafayette, Frankfort, Lebanon, Indianapolis, Columbus and Seymour,
Ind.; Louisville, Hodgenville, Buffalo,
Glasgow and Scottsville, Ky.; Gallatin, Nashville, Franklin, Columbia and Lawrenceville, Tenn.; Florence, Ala.; Columbus, Mason, Meridian, Laurel and Hattiesburg, Miss. At Hattiesburg the Centennial Highway, from Memphis to Gulfport, via Jackson, crosses the Jackson Highway.
From here autoists can proceed to New Orleans with ease over the Jackson Highway, or go to coast points, 70 miles distant, on the Centennial Highway. At Gulfport boating, bathing and fishing is enjoyed at all times of the year.

Many automobile parties are now being formed among friends and relatives of the soldiers, and a veritable stream of ears is expected along the Jackson Highway at an early date. Already a number of ears have come over the route and all report enjoyable trips.

TALL CORN.

The Danville Advocate says that a colored woman of that city brought a stalk of corn to that office that grew in her garden that measured 13 feet—the longest the editor of that paper had ever seen.

We are a little bit averse to bragging on ourselves, but the editor of The Herald grew corn in his garden his year that, to use a slang expression, had the Danville corn "skinned a city block." We cut one stalk that measured 14 feet 4 inches on which there were four well developed ears of corn. This was only one of many stalks that grew to this height.

Your Nation's Call For Food Is a Direct Call to All
Hog Raisers

There is a world's hog shortage of 32,425,000 head. The cattle supply of all nations is 28,080,000 below normal. There are millions of men in the Allied Europe that have been taken away from the farms and livestock production.

As a consequence we have a severe shortage of meat and an enormous demand throughout the world. Twenty-cent pork is a reality. Twenty-five cent pork is probable. It is the patriotic duty of every American farmer to raise hogs during the next few years. Nothing on the farm will prove more profitable. With the best hog sold at a nominal price and sold right at your door, you enjoy advantages but that few vicinities can claim; a feed that will make pork at less than eight cents per pound.

Tell us, Mr. Hog Raiser, doesn't the future look good to you?

Write us for prices on our feed and start feeding at once.

"SMOKES" AND "CHEWS"
For Our Boys in the French Trenches.

The Hartford Herald has joined with the Louisville Courier-Journal and the Louisville Times in a campaign to raise money for the purchase of chewing and smoking tobacco to be sent to American fighting men now beyond the Atlantic.

Elsewhere in this issue will be found an advertisement, explaining the movement in detail.

The Courier-Journal and the Times have notified us that Kentucky and Southern Indiana are to be given the distinction, by those in charge of this nation-wide movement, of being allowed to forward tobacco in its natural state, in other words "long green."

Every cent contributed to the Fund will be spent in the purchase of manufactured tobacco, the manufacturers having agreed to sell to the Fund all tobacco at absolute cost and Uncle Sam has agreed that tobacco for "Our Boys in France" shall not have to pay taxes or duties.

Growers who wish to make their contributions in tobacco in the natural state will bring it to our office and when a sufficient amount is collected it will be forwarded to the Courier-Journal and the Times at Louisville. Growers will please bear in mind that their contributions of tobacco should have at least a 50c value.

Every reader is urged to carefully go over the advertisement, clip the coupon, sign his or her name and address, and forward with such amount as he or she feels like giving.

SIMMONS CITIZENS GIVE BANQUET TO SOLDIER BOYS

Simmons, Ky., Oct. 8.—When the good citizens of Simmons learned that the second increment of the draft had been called from Ohio county and would assemble at Hartford Friday night preparatory to leaving for Camp Zachary Taylor Saturday morning, they felt that they ought to do something for the boys, so they called some of the citizens of Hartford and asked that they be permitted to give the boys
a banquet at their own expense which permission was granted. When the citizens here learned of this they gaily responded and freely contributed until it was only a short time until there was plenty of finance to pay for everything that was necessary.

Messrs. G. T. Tinsley, Willard
Lake, M. F. Chumley and Guy Ranney were appointed a committee to take charge of the entertainment.
They called Mrs. Foster, proprietor of the Commercial Hotel, and asked her to prepare supper for the soldier boys and also a few invited guests, which she did and we want to thank her for the beautiful supper she gave. After supper Mr. A.
D. Kirk, who was one of the guests, made a very nice talk which was followed by Mr. G. T. Tinsley, who made an interesting talk and the closing remarks were made by Mr.
J. H. Thomas, after which Mr. S. O.
Keown announced that Mr. Barrass, manager of the Star Theater, was waiting to give the boys a free show.
After the show the boys were taken to homes by the good citizens of Hartford and were given a good warm room and bed for the night.

The citizens of Simmons feel that they have done their part towards entertaining the boys that have gone, as does Hartford we suppose, and we are anxious to know what other town in Ohio county will be ready to respond when the next call is made.
This does not mean that we are going to quit but we are willing and ready at all times to answer the call, so don't hesitate to call on us.

SINGING CONVENTION.

The singing convention of the southern part of Ohio county met at Rosine, Ky., on Sept. 30, 1917.

After devotional exercises, Mr. G. J. Christian was elected chairman and Ezra Crowder, secretary. Arrangement of the program was next in order. There were six classes represented. Rosine was the first to occupy the floor, singing two songs, viz.: "There is an Unclear Day Yet to Dawn," and "On to Victory." Followed by Mt. Zion, singing two songs, viz.: "I Am Going Home," and "On to Victory," with Selby Sanderfur leader. Followed by South Beaver Dam with Oscar Stewart leader, singing two songs, viz.: "All the Way to Glory," and "Beautiful Home." Followed by Mt. Pleasant with E. P. Sanderfur leader, singing two songs, viz.: "That Glorious Home," and "We Are Marching From the Cross to the Crown." Followed by Liberty with Horace Taylor leader, singing two songs, viz.: "Just Over the Stars," and "The World For Jesus." Followed by Horse Branch with Carson Gary leader, singing two songs, viz.: "Same Golden Dawn," and "My Father's Love."

Convention then adjourned until 1:30 o'clock by chairman G. J. Christian. After enjoying a happy noon hour, and friendly conversation with friends the convention was again called to order and opened with some duets and quartets which were good. V. C. Gary's family quartet was first, "Following On," followed by duet by Ezra Crowder and Harriet Wallace, "For It Was Jesus." Duet from Mt. Pleasant, followed by Horace Taylor and wife, "I Wonder if Mother Knows," followed by a quartet from Rosine, "Some Sweet Day Saviour Guide Me," followed by Horse Branch choir singing two songs, viz.: "Over There, When We All Are Safe At Home," Liberty following singing two songs, viz.: "Will You Be There," and "Work for the King." Mt. Pleasant following singing two songs, viz.: "When His Love Touched My Soul," and "Walking By Faith in the Lord." South Beaver Dam following singing two songs, viz.: "Beautiful Moonlight," and "Under His Care." Mt. Zion following singing two songs, viz.: "Gathering Beautiful Sheaves," and "By Faith We Are Saved," followed by Rosine singing two songs, viz.: "Serving Jesus," and "Onward Christian, Onward."

This ending our song service we were entertained by Prof. Ozna Shults, who gave us an interesting talk, after which the convention adjourned to meet at Mt. Pleasant the first fifth Sunday after March.

CO-OPERATIVE PEOPLE

To Erect New Warehouse and Tobacco House in The Near Future.

Plans and specifications are in for the new warehouse and tobacco receiving barn of the American Co-operative Association, and bids for building of same will close today.

The warehouse will be of brick and will be 48x120 feet with a basement under one-half of it. The tobacco factory will be frame and 40x100 feet.

These buildings are to be erected on a lot recently purchased from Rowan Holbrook, between the Baptist church and the depot. Work on the buildings will begin as soon as the material can be put on the ground, and the tobacco factory is expected to be completed in time to receive this year's crop of the weed.

PUMPKINS BRING GOOD PRICE.

Pumpkins—yes, the old-time yellow pumpkins, have at last gotten into society, and are now selling for hard cash just like any other product of the farm.

Mr. Al Sheffield, near town, has sold a load of these "vegetables" to parties at the mines for the neat sum of $13 and has another load engaged at the same price.

If we were assured such prices for this product as Mr. Sheffield received for those he sold, we would look up this shop in a jiffy, go out somewhere near town, rent us a patch of ground, and next year would have more pumpkins and money than "Carter had oats."

QUITS PIGEON BUSINESS.

Edward Likens, who has been breeding thoroughbred Carneaux, Homers and White King Pigeons, has disposed of his entire flock of birds. He shipped forty pairs of these birds to Haller, the pet shop man, of Louisville, and disposed of several pairs here in Hartford.

FARM FOR SALE.

Between 130 and 140 acres—all cleared and tillable land. 3 1/4 miles below Prentiss. Two ponds—one never goes dry; two wells—one at the house and one at barn. Splendid house and good outbuildings. Can be bought at a reasonable price.

Oriental Justice.

A young man going on a journey entrusted a hundred dollars to an old man. When he came back the old man denied having had any money deposited with him, and he was had up before the cadi. "Where were you, young man, when you delivered this money?" "Under a tree." "Take my seal and summon that tree," said the judge. "Go, young man, and tell the tree to come hither, and the tree will obey you when you show it my seal." The young man went in wonder. After he had been gone some time the cadi said to the old man: "He is long. Do you think he has got there yet?" "No," said the old man; "it is at some distance. He has not got there yet." "How knowest thou, old man," cried the cadi, "where that tree is?" The young man returned and said the tree would not come. "He has been here, young man, and given his evidence. The money is thine."—Oriental.

Heart and Lungs.

The action of the heart, lungs and digestive system is involuntary, for the reason that it is indispensable to life and must be carried on under all circumstances. If a man had to think of his heart or had to remember that he must breathe or that his food must digest he would have no time to do anything else, and if by chance he should forget to keep his heart going or his lungs in operation he would fall dead on the spot.

The Most Accurate Frontier.

As an instance of the jealousy existing in the relations between Norway and Sweden it may be noted that the boundary line between the two countries is the most minutely exact in Europe. In every parish touched by the line there is deposited an elaborate plan which is renewed every ten years, the whole of the work of surveying, etc., being carefully repeated each time.

Local Pride.

"What is the name of this street?" "This is Broadway," replied the proud citizen of Dubbsville. "Ah! Named in honor of the famous thoroughfare, I presume?" "Why, sir, this is the famous thoroughfare!"—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Pass Along the SMOKES

YOU warm-hearted people of Ohio county won't let the men who are fighting your fight go smoke-hungry.

Not a bit of it. You're going to see to it that they get all the tobacco they need—just as the folks back home in England and France are taking care of the smokes for Tommy and Poilu.

It isn't much to do—considering. A dollar or a quarter from you that gives a little comfort to one of your own flesh and blood, doesn't stack up to much alongside the fact that the very man you are befriending may have to give up his life.

But it's a regular thing to do—and you "regular" men and women will do it.

This is the way. Fill in that coupon below, put it in an envelope together with all you can afford to give and drop it in the nearest box now, addressed to

HARTFORD HERALD Tobacco Fund

Our paper has joined the Courier-Journal and the Louisville Times in this most worthy undertaking.

Approved by Secretaries of War and Navy, the management of this fund buys its tobacco at cost—every contribution of twenty-five cents means forty-five to fifty cents' worth of tobacco for the man out there. No one profits but the fighting man—rents, postage, advertising are all contributed and the soldier who gets your tobacco will send you a postal telling how much it meant to him.

There's no argument here. Just put your name on that blank line and pass along the smokes.

BOYS AT HATTIESBURG ENJOY THE CIRCUS

Camp Shelby, Hattiesburg, Miss.—Indiana, West Virginia and Kentucky soldiers, now here to the number of more than 15,000, deserted their tents a few days ago to get a whiff of the sawdust ring. In other words, they went to a three-ring circus, which included Hattiesburg in its southern trip. It so happened that the circus has its winter quarters in Indiana, so the Indiana men were unusually interested in "circus day." It also happened that a number of former employees of the show were with the Indiana Guard, having responded to the call for men when it was sounded by Uncle Sam, deserting the circus during the summer months.

The soldiers who were formerly with the show went to the circus lot bright and early to greet old friends. They embraced clowns, freaks and just plain canvas men, for after being with a circus for a season a mystic bond of affection develops. In many eyes there were tears, as old friends met and clasped hands.

The circus, the Hagenbeck-Wallace show, came to town last Sunday, and unloaded in leisurely fashion. The unloading scenes were witnessed by large numbers of soldiers, who whiled away many an hour just like the little boys and girls of the city.

The Indiana home town of the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus is French Lick, which furnished a number of soldiers for training at Camp Shelby.

The coming of the circus proved a rare treat for the soldiers, offering a welcomed diversion from routine duties at camp.

DROPPED A WREATH FOR HIS BROTHER

Behind the British Lines in France.—A German airplane was brought down in the British lines last week after a battle lasting nearly an hour. The next morning a German machine came hovering over the same spot and maneuvered for a position. It was promptly attacked, but returned to the German lines after dropping overboard something which was seen to fall near an evacuated village.

Two British soldiers, who were sent to find out what had been dropped, returned with a beautiful wreath nearly three feet in diameter. To the wreath was attached a note asking the British airmen to place it on the grave of the dead pilot.

"The officer you have buried was my brother," said the note. "I spent six happy years working in a London bank. I know you honor the dead. Please do this little service for me." The wreath was deposited as requested on the grave of the dead German airman.

GERMANY'S MORAL BANKRUPTCY

After three years of war, we hear a great deal about German man power being exhausted. There is renewed talk about German finances being at the point of collapse. That Germany's food supply is failing everybody knows; that many of her industries are ruined is not denied; that her shipping and commerce have suffered blows from which it will take a generation to recover is admitted by German business men. It is not strange that they are reported to be urging peace as an imperative necessity if anything is to be saved out of the wreck. But Germany has to mourn today a greater loss than any of those mentioned. She has lost her reputation. She has squandered her moral assets. At a time when she needs to call up all her reserves of good faith and confidence she finds that they have been wasted. Nobody believes her. Nobody trusts here. Upon the German government the disagreeable evidence that it is morally bankrupt is being pressed from every quarter.—New York Evening Post.

HER MONEY SAVED BY A LUCKY CHANCE

Madisonville, Ky.—A well known citizen of Madisonville was sick, and when the nurse came to take charge of the patient the feather bed the patient was on was ordered changed for a mattress and the straw bed underneath the feather bed was ordered burned. When the patient heard the orders she tried to speak, but was too weak and the straw bed was taken to a back lot and the match applied, but the bed did not burn. When the patient revived she asked where the bed was and when told stated she was glad it did not burn, as she had her money in the bedtick to the amount of $1,000. She stated she put it there because she did not like to have it in the banks.

YANKEE BRAINS.

The story of Yankee-brains is not a new one. Neither is it a story that will soon be finished. So long as the world lasts the brains of the Yankee must be reckoned with. Whenever something is badly needed it will be the brain of the Yankee who will find it.

When circumstances forced the United States to declare war against Germany it became at once apparent that in order to overcome the ingenuity of the Teuton inventors our inventors at home would have to go them at least one better.

President Wilson, wise in all things, it seems, saw at once the advisability of assembling the most productive men in the American field of invention and by co-operation and exchange of ideas devise, if possible, some means of overcoming the awful odds that confronted us.

The result of first importance thus far made public is the liberty motor.

As yet details are meager, for the greatest secrecy has been maintained by the War Department. In order to reassure the people of the success of the new motor Secretary Baker has announced that several thorough tests have been made and that when this government puts it to use in the aviation department, of the army in France the nations of the world will realize that once more Yankee brains have made the impossible possible.

More than a score of the most expert engineers of the nation concentrated their faculties on this one object. A motor for airships had to be found that would add lightness and increased speed and be as noiseless as possible. All three of these aims have been attained. The creative faculties of the corps of engineers, their trade secrets, their individual ambitions in this instance were waived aside. It was the concentrated wish of all who worked on the Liberty motor to give to the United States supremacy of the air. The motor is being fitted in the new planes being shipped to France, and when word is passed down the line that our Sammies are ready for active service new history of the war will begin and wornout Europe will be given new blood and new life.

In order that the United States might be supreme, all competition was abandoned. The motor industry was mobilized. Hundreds of these motors will now be built without friction or delay.

The story of how all of this was done, brief as it is, reads like a romance, but a romance with reality in it which is the happiest augury of the future.—Commercial Appeal.

EXPORT BUSINESS GROWING

Our Great Ally Possesses Recuperative Powers Which Justify Belief That She Will Meet and Solve Triumphantly the Problems Which Confront Her After the War.

With Paris boulevards echoing with "vives" for American troops our interest in the welfare of our ally vastly increases, and the facts are not lacking to encourage the belief that she is already on the road to recovery from the blow of invasion by a ruthless enemy.

One of the most important developments is the announcement that one of the largest banking institutions in America concerned with foreign trade, the Guaranty Trust company of New York, has opened a Paris branch to handle the rapidly increasing volume of French business.

This action may surprise many persons who had thought of France as bowed under a calamitous invasion. The bank, however, gives figures indicating that France is not only meeting her military and civilian problems with a stout heart and never failing courage, but is re-establishing her export business with this country.

In 1914, the year of the outbreak of the war, imports from France to this country totaled $141,446,252. This total was reduced to $77,158,740 in 1915, but last year the value of French imports to the United States rose to $102,077,000.

"A nation that can achieve such a commercial recovery while her territory is being ravished by the invader," says the Trust company's statement, "possesses recuperative powers which justify the belief that she will emerge from the present conflict prepared to meet and solve triumphantly the problems which confront her."

The commercial and industrial record of France, following past wars, indicates that she should recover quickly from the actual physical destruction inflicted in the present conflict. The reconstruction of railroads, the erection of factories to replace those destroyed, and the replacement of the mechanism of industrial activity that will be required and that is in part already planned, offer a peculiarly inviting field to American capital and enterprise. Tentative steps have already been taken by representatives of American engineers and business men in this work.

Aside from its attractive business aspect, the enlistment of American money and effort in the great task of reconstruction that will remain at the end of the war will tend to cement still more closely the ties that bind the two great republics together, and will enable Americans to discharge in part the debt they owe to France for her friendly interest in the welfare and progress of the United States from the beginning of its life as a nation.

In judging the industrial status of any nation, its production and consumption of coal, iron, and steel and the growth of its transportation systems are highly significant factors.

In 1899, French industries consumed 21 million tons of coal, of which 13.5 millions were taken from home mines. In 1912, the consumption was 61 millions, of which 41 million tons were taken from home mines.

In 1899, the French output of cast iron was 1,380,000 tons, and of steel, 1,090,000 tons. In 1914, France produced 5,311,000 tons of cast iron and 4,935,000 tons of steel.

The increasing activity of her railway system is similarly demonstrable. In 1899, there were in France 10,743 miles of railway track; in 1912, there were 31,546 miles.

Between 1899 and 1912, inland navigation increased 150 per cent; while the traffic of her mercantile marine has amazingly expanded. The tonnage entering French ports in 1899 is set down as 11,000,000 tons. In 1912 this had been increased to 53,000,000 tons.

Leaders in American finance ascribe this solidarity of the French republic to three influences; first, a thoroughly sound banking system, centralized in one of the greatest banking institutions of the world, the Bank of France; second, the ingrained thrift and frugality of the French people as a whole, together with a national economic vigor not elsewhere surpassed; third, wise supervision, and patriotic co-operation by the government with banking and business interests.

The government does its part to warrant and retain the confidence of the holders of its securities. One of its wise policies is to impose new taxes to defray the interest charges on new security issues. It began this practice after the Franco-Prussian war, and is today following the same rule in regard to securities issued to finance the present conflict. This continuity of purpose, doubtless, will prove reassuring to all holders of French government securities.

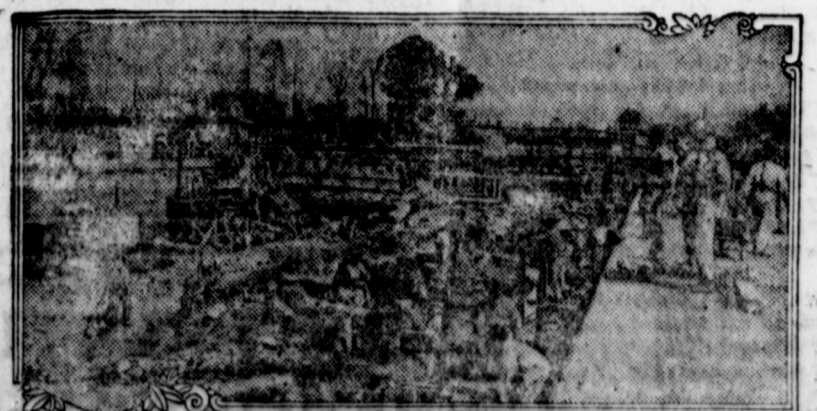

The Franco-Prussian war of 1870-1871 taught the French people the meaning of thrift and economy. So well did they learn this lesson, that the whole sum of the indemnity demanded by Germany, $1,000,000,000, was raised within the republic's confines by its own inhabitants and paid off more than one year before the time stipulated by the Germans.

The habit thus acquired has never been forgotten by the French, and today the aggregate number of investors purchasing the French war loans has reached the amazing total of 4,500,000 individual subscribers. Perhaps no other country, in proportion to its population, can make so good a showing.

France is particularly fortunate in that her small investors prefer "safe" investments rather than offerings which promise high returns. Government rentes, in France are perpetual, and this characteristic seems to obtain for these government bonds increasing favor in the eyes of the French people.

The points of sympathy between France and America are too many to enumerate, but the spirit of liberty and its resultant democracy are, today as always, the major ideals of both nations. Seeking no victories but those of peace, no territory except their own, no sovereignty except sovereignty over themselves—the independence and equal rights of the weakest member of the family of nations are to the people of the United States and of France entitled to as much respect as those of the mightiest empire. In defense of these principles, France is engaged in a death struggle with militant autocracy and ruthless aggression, and it is not surprising to learn that she has loaned to her allies and to other friendly states 7,000,000,000 francs with which to further the cause of democracy. It is in keeping with America's traditions that since the date on which we formally aligned ourselves with France and her allies in the great struggle, our government has lent to France $370,000,000.

It is eminently fitting that America should now be fighting on French soil to make the world safe for democracy. The liberty that America has enjoyed for 140 years France helped her to achieve. The swords of Lafayette and Rochambeau, aided by the guns of De Grasse upon the high seas, assisted in cutting the foreign ties that bound the American colonies prior to the War for Independence, and from the private purse of King Louis himself came the first loan to America—unsecured and unconditional—to finance that historic undertaking. It was with entire justice that Washington wrote to Rochambeau, "To the generous aid of your nation and to the bravery of its sons is to be ascribed in a very great degree that independence for which we have fought."

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS

All About You and Your Neighbors

SUNNYDALE.

Oct. 8.—Farmers are very busy cutting up corn and making molasses.

Mr. Tom Tucker's friends and neighbors gave him a surprise birthday dinner Sunday, it being his 50th birthday. Lots of good things to eat and all present reported a good time.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleve Baxley visited her parents, Mr. and J. R. Tilford, at Dundee, from Friday until Sunday.

Mr. Elmer Greer has returned to his home in Missouri.

Mr. Oda Powers left Friday for Chandler, Okla.

Miss Elsie Tilford, of Dundee, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Cleve Baxley.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Brown, of Jingo, visited Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Lee Saturday and Sunday.

Several from here attended the fair. All reported a nice time.

Mrs. Myra Renfrow, who has been on the sick list for some time, is not any better at this writing.

Mr. John Wimsatt, who has been having hemorrhages of the lungs, is improving.

School election was held here Friday. Mr. Lon Gilliam was elected trustee.

SIMMONS.

Oct. 8.—Mr. W. W. Simmons, of Memphis, Tenn., was in here camp a few days last week.

Mr. Geo. M. Burton spent Sunday with his family in Beaver Dam.

Mr. Joe M. Hendrie returned home Friday after a few days visit with relatives in Chicago.

Several persons gathered at the station Sunday night to see the soldiers go by. There were two trains of about 15 coaches each going to some point in the South. Seems to have been a cavalry as they had several cars of horses.

It seems funny and not so funny either that about eighteen months ago when we were about to get into it with Mexico and Germany that most every Republican in the country was calling Mr. Wilson a coward, condemning the administration and every thing else because we did not go to war then. Now that we are at war all the leading Republicans are upholding the hand of Wilson, but there are a few petty politicians here in this county that are going about telling the people that this war was uncalculated for and could have prevented if there had been a Republican President and most every thing else to get a vote. Mr. Elihu Root, the greatest Republican leader of the party today, says such fellows should be taken out and hung. Most every fair-minded person knows that if there had been a Republican President that we would have been at war a long time ago and would have had thousands upon thousands of boys buried today where we haven't any and possibly will not have any as this war may come to a close before we get our boys over there. So let every Democrat come to the polls and cast a straight vote as there is not a man on the ticket that does not deserve the support of every Democrat in the county and a majority of the Republicans.

BEAVER DAM.

Oct. 8.—The property in town owned by the late W. T. Austin, consisting of a dwelling house in the western part of town and a vacant lot on Main street, were sold to the highest bidder last Wednesday. The dwelling house, which was the home of Mr. Austin, brought $1,500. Mr. Mann Tilford was the purchaser. The lot on Main street was knocked off to Mr. Vinson, the merchant. His bid was $600.

Mr. Wade Hodges has bought the home of Mr. Claude Liles situated in the western part of town and will move into same.

Mr. L. H. Combs has bought the farm of P. F. Westerfield, in Liberty neighborhood, known as the John R. Taylor farm. This is the third time this farm has changed hands since it went out of the Taylor family, each purchaser making a profit. The last sale was $4,200.

Rev. Albert Maddox preached a very able sermon at the Baptist church Sunday on Christian Service. It was the regular meeting day at the church but the pastor, Rev. Edgar Allen, had been in a revival meeting in Christian county the past two weeks and was not feeling well and invited Rev. Maddox to fill his appointment on that date.

Politics is at a low ebb in this neck of the woods. We very seldom see a candidate. Gradually political lines are becoming obliterated. In other years all a candidate need to do was come out with Republican or Democrat pinned to his coat, but during these war times the voters are looking for the man that is best qualified for the place he is asking for.

The road builders are hauling rock on the road this morning. They will complete the Morgantown road this week if they get rock as far out as the hill two miles from town known as Kates hill.

Mrs. J. D. Williams, who has been spending the summer in Stanford, Ill., returned home last week. She was accompanied home by her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Tim Taylor. They came in an auto.

Mr. Corbett Wells, of Greenville, moved into the house owned by Mr. Zeke Taylor on South Main street, last week.

It is almost impossible to get farm hands in this vicinity. We learn that Mr. Albert Chinn is paying $2.00 per day for hands to work on his farm.

CENTERTOWN.

Oct. 8.—Rev. J. B. Rayburn and Dr. S. W. Crowe, who attended the Louisville Annual Conference at Hopkinsville, Ky., returned home last Tuesday evening. Rev. Rayburn was returned as pastor here for another year.

The tent meeting which has been in progress here for ten days under the direction of Rev. A. Stafford and the Brown family, removed to Island last Saturday.

Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Smith, who have been attending a Medical Society in Evansville for the past week, have returned home. Dr. reports a great wave of patriotism among the doctors in the Hoosier State.

Mr. Harve Condit has gone to Arkansas and Missouri prospecting for a location.

Mr. E. G. Hagerman has resigned his position with the L. & N. railroad as agent at this place, but has not been released. He will probably locate in the southland.

Mr. O. L. Ross, the carrier on Route No. 1, from this office, has tendered his resignation to the Department to take effect Oct. 31.

Centertown certainly does need a good rain. The dust is almost unbearable as the wind carries it in every direction.

Stillie Mason, who has been in charge of an exchange for the Cumberland Telephone Company at Drakesboro for several weeks, has returned home.

G. W. Vincent, C. M. Swain, Guy Hefflin and several others from this town, attended the Owensboro fair last week.

Mr. Lee Mason and daughter Bessie will leave tomorrow for the eastern markets to purchase new goods for the fall and winter trade. Mr. Mason expects to be gone several days.

Mrs. C. G. Stenberg and children, who have been visiting relatives at Joelton, Tenn., for several days, have returned home.

CONCORD.

Oct. 8.—Several from here attended the singing convention at Rosine last Sunday. All report a very nice time.

Mr. Fred Lauterwasser and family, of Hartford, spent Sunday with his brother, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Lauterwasser, here.

Some of the drafted boys in this community have answered Uncle Sam's call and are at Camp Taylor at Louisville.

Mr. Wayne S. Rock returned Sunday from Owensboro, where he helped the manager during the fair, held there last week.

The farmers are very busy completing their fall work, cutting corn and making molasses.

BENNETTS.

Oct. 8.—Miss Lula Wallace, who has been visiting her uncle, Mr. Tom Wallace, for the past two weeks, will return home tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Carson, of this place, will move to Beaver Dam soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tatum, of Simmons, were the guests of relatives here Friday.

Mrs. Strawther Hawkins attended the burial of Mrs. Maud Graves, who was buried at Hartford.

Mrs. Zac Reid, of near Smallhouse, has been the guest of Mrs. Strawther Hawkins.

Miss Anna Lashbrooks, of Hartford, will visit Mrs. Strawther Hawkins this week.

The new schoolhouse built at Victory is completed and school began today under the management of Mr. Otis Carson.

Mrs. John Brown has been on the sick list.

OAK GROVE.

Oct. 8.—Sunday School at this place is progressing nicely.

Several from this place attended the funeral of little Earl White Sunday at Cedar Grove.

Mrs. Ida Dyer, who has been sick for quite awhile, is improving.

Miss Erna Boswell, of near Narrows, left Thursday for Gordon, Ia., to make her uncle a visit. She was accompanied as far as Owensboro by Ethel Muffett, Mrs. Ida Bean, Ozona Wilma and Elton Boswell, where they attended the Owensboro fair.

DIRT AND DISEASE.

Man Alone Has Typhoid Fever, and He Gets It From Filth.

To be the consort of a queen and yet to die of a disease that is caused by filth!

That was the fate of Prince Albert, consort of Queen Victoria, who died at the prime age of forty-two, from typhoid fever, a disease that is wholly preventable.

Typhoid fever is found only in man. It is caused by a short rod shaped microscopic vegetable which enters the body through the mouth and leaves it in human discharges to enter another human mouth, to which it is carried by fingers, flies, fluids and food.

It is essentially a disease of young adult life. Older people are less apt to have it, probably because they have suffered from an attack of the disease in their youth.

Typhoid fever is known by various names—"slow fever," "low fever"—but, whatever name it is called by, it kills about 8 per cent of those whom it attacks.

A certain percentage of those who recover become carriers—that is, persons who, though well, secrete the organisms in their discharges.

Carriers are largely responsible for the perpetuation of typhoid fever, but the installation of proper sewer systems, the abolition of flies, cockroaches and other filth insects, the maintenance of a pure food supply and the intelligent care of the victim of the disease are the measures which if rigidly enforced will rid the country of the disease.—New York Mail.

LIKE INVERTED RAIN.

Luckily For the Aviator, He Was Out of Range of the Drops.

It will be easily understood, writes C. G. Grey in "Tales of the Flying Service," that before a bullet that has been shot straight upward begins to fall there must be a point where it stands dead still and that for the last part of its upward flight it travels very slowly. One officer of my acquaintance told me, after some months of war, that his most curious experience was when once, and once only, he discovered the exact extreme range point.

He was flying along quite peacefully on a bright, sunny morning at an altitude of a little over 8,000 feet, without worrying about anything, when suddenly he saw something bright dart past the side of the machine. He began to look about him and saw, a shade below him and a trifle to one side, a whole stream of little bright things glittering in the sun.

Then he realized that he had just struck a level that happened to be the extreme vertical range of a machine gun that was making uncommonly good shooting. Other bullets from rifles and other machine guns also flashed into view as he flew along, and when his eyes caught the right focus he could follow the slow, topmost part of their movement for a considerable distance. "It looked," he said, "just as if it were raining upward," and the phenomenon was so novel that he quite forgot for a time that the "raindrops" indicated that he was unpopular with some one below.

Bomb Dropping Balloons.

The first bomb dropping balloons were humble enough and equally futile. Balloons had been used in war as early as the siege of Maudsby by the Austrians for observation purposes. The first talk of bomb dropping was in 1812, when the Russians were said to have a huge balloon for that purpose, but nothing was done with it. In 1847, however, the Austrians, when attacking Venice, sent up paper fire balloons, which were to drop bombs into the town. But they forgot to allow for contrary air currents. The balloons got into such a current and, drifting back over the Austrian lines, bombed them instead of Venice.

Webster's Portrait.

Daniel Webster once sat for his portrait to G. P. Healy, and the senator's remark when he surveyed the completed picture became one of the artist's favorite anecdotes in after years. "I think," said Webster as he looked at his counterfeited presentment, "that is a face I have often shaved."

Healy found Andrew Jackson a disagreeable and unwilling "subject," and he compensated himself by painting Old Hickory with absolute fidelity to nature, not glossing a single defect. The portrait gives Jackson an ugly, savage and pallid face.

The Ship of State.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier once took a fall out of Sir Charles Tupper, for years leader of the opposition, and Sir John Macdonald. Bantering them on their self praise for their own political services to Canada, he admitted that they had sailed the ship of state fairly successfully, adding: "Sir John was at the helm and supplied the brains, while Sir Charles supplied the wind. His blowing filled the sails."—Toronto Globe.

Embarrassing.

"Do you ever see the president?" asked Willie of his uncle, who lived in Washington.

"Yes, nearly every day," was the reply. "And does he ever see you?" queried the little fellow.—Chicago News.

Size of It.

"Send me a ton of coal," "What size?" "Well, a 2,000 pound ton would suit me, if that's not asking too much."—Life.

A Letter From Washington

The Food Administrator Writes Us:

"The use of baking powder breads made of corn and other coarse flours instead of patent wheat flour is recommended by the Conservation Division of the Food Administration. The wheat needed for export is thus conserved, and at the same time healthful food for our own people is provided. The circulation of recipes providing for these uses would be of assistance in carrying out our plans."

The following recipes for Corn Bread and Rye Rolls save wheat flour and make attractive and wholesome food for every day when made with Much satisfaction was expressed by everyone present the last day of the fair over the winning of the free-for-all trot by Barron Higginson, owned by H. I. Hansbrough, of Hodgenville. Mr. Hansbrough is a high-class gentleman, well liked by everyone who knows him, is a clean sportsman, and when it was seen that those engaged in the race were endeavoring to give his entry a "raw deal," there is no wonder that the crowd gave his horse the deserved cheers when he went under the wire a winner.

Beautiful 1918 Maxwell Now On Exhibition

Without altering the world champion motor, the famous perfected clutch and transmission or the mighty axels, the Maxwell builders have produced a new wonder car, far superior in construction and in appearance to anything yet turned out by the Maxwell factories—we have this new and beautiful car—come and see it.

The car is larger and roomier, for one thing—the wheel base has been increased six inches. It is also a stronger and more rigid machine for the road.

The frame is now six inches, instead of three inches deep. And the body rests directly on this powerful frame, instead of on brackets extending from the sides, as in the past.

Do you know what that means? It means this: The firmness with which the wheels grip the road and the steadiness of the car at high speed give you a sense of security such as you have been able to enjoy before only in cars shackled with a battery of shock absorbers.

This New Car is 50 Pounds Lighter

There's a marvel of engineering for you, friends! The car is made bigger and stronger—and yet actually lighter.

This means greater ease and comfort on the road. More than that—it means greater economy.

Touring Car $745; Roadster $745; Coupe $1,095; Berline $1,095; Sedan $1,095.

All Prices f. o. b. Detroit.

HARTFORD MOTOR CAR CO., Hartford, Ky.

And the Maxwell before was the most economical 5-passenger car in the world. Compensating underslung rear springs—the last word in spring suspension—mark this wonderful Maxwell of 1918.

They mean greater comfort—greater economy, by lessening wear and tear on the car.

Maxwell Now Has the Style Of the Costliest Cars

The new Maxwell is a car of great beauty.

It has a sloped windshield and rakish lines never before produced in any car costing less than $1200.

Its good looks now equal its proved mechanical efficiency.

The new upholstery is richer and gives a new comfort.

Inside and out the new 1918 Maxwell is a perfected car.

We're proud to sell it. You'll be proud to own one.
